User Interface for Better User Experience

Supervisor: Professor Quan Long

Group Member: Lau Yui

Introduction

A user interface is the space where interaction between humans and machines occurs (human-machine interaction). The goal of this interaction is to let users control the machines and undertake operations effectively.

In other words, a user interface is a system for people to interact with one or more machines. This includes hardware and software working together.

Objective

The primary purpose of this FYP is to build a very user-friendly online Music store which contains the following elements:
- Clarity
- Familiarity
- Well-organized layout
- Sufficient guidance
